Conferences

A business trip in Greece combines benefits of the natural beauty you get to witness with accommodation, technical knowledge and supreme hospitality. The sun is shining 330 days a year and the services are of high level. Comfort and fun along with the exceptional accommodation, latest equipment for every kind of event, exceptional organising and secretarial support by specialized employees. Greece has organized european summits, great events, festivals, international conferences and of course the Athens olympic games in 2004, having acquired huge experience.

Conventional tourism in Athens

Attiki is a place of big differences and a modern european province that can satisfy every need. Starting from iconic buildings such as the Music Hall, Zappeio and the luxurious rooms of the historic hotels in the center or the beautiful Athens Riviera to the Peace and Friendship Stadium, the former olympic estates of Badminton, Tae kwo do but also Technopolis Gazi, Athens as a european metropolis offers all a modern traveller desires for his own professional purposes.

Combine the reason that brought you here with tours around the museums and sightseeing in the historic centre of Athens, ancient or contemporary. Taste the food in awarded restaurants, have fun at the most popular beach bars alongside the beach Faliro-Sounio, take up sea sports, yachting or visits to the extraordinary islands of Argosaronikos with the old mansions and alleys, almost one hour away from the shore.

Conventional Tourism in Western Greece

Western Greece is a european province which is on the fast lane of development. Rich in historic locations like Ancient Olympia and Delphi, natural beauties like Strofilia forest or Vouraikos Canyon but also the luxurious hotels. Having the historic city of Patras as the centre of attention, the so called Gate to the West, hosting a convention in Western Greece offers the privilege of combing business and pleasure with unforgettable exoeriences. Whether you are interested in hiking, dining at a restaurant with view of the emblematic Rio-Antirio Bridge, or feel the awe of the Sacred Place of Mesologgi, Western Greece is ideal for you.

Conventional tourism in Thessaloniki

Thessaloniki is perhaps the most important Balkan city, with great accomodation. The city hosts international conventions every year, exhibitions and events of every kind, the international film festival as well as the International Exhibitions of Thessaloniki. The city is awake 24/7 and the are in-numerous choices for leisure. Amazing food and fun, museums, cosmopolitan walkways, designer stores for shopping and the New Beach, a collection of theme gardens by the sea, true examples of spatial reconstruction. Only a few miles away, one can visit the archaeological sites, Philippes, ancient Dion, Vergina, where all the glory of ancient Macedonia of Philippe and Alexander the Great unfolds. Ideal destinations for a day or two.

Conventional tourism in the rest of Greece

In every corner of Greece, you can find large, luxurious and awarded hotel facilities at wonderful locations by the sea or mountain of wild beauty, available throughout the year for conventions, meetings and company seminars. Western Messinia, Rhodes, Crete, Ioannina, Chalkidiki, Corfu, each place has some different to offer in terms of activities, leaving the matter of quality and loyalty of the people working there, non- negotiable. There are airports with international connections and national roads or bridges linked to european networks, that assure safe and easy transport for the closest sites.
